TJ-

You have done a solid job uncovering BPU corruption. I believe there is much more information out there, and more may be revealed if you can change the approach of your site. I do not like your style, but I do like what you are doing. You lost the election, not because of your cause, but because of your approach. I predicted you would lose. You did win though.... Many voted for you... including me.

But you have more questions to ask TJ.... Ask them and open your site up for live "synchronous" comment. There will be a larger impact.

We do not deserve the absolute sewage we get backwashed into our mouths from BPU.

Just an opinion.. Good Luck!
